

Practice opportunity or associate-ship with an established healthcare group

Do you believe in the power of patient-focused healthcare where success is judged by your patients' outcomes?

Are you ready to learn more about the body and the original principles of Chiropractic care in a 21st century healthcare model?

Are you a team player in the truest sense? Then we have an opportunity for you...

In 2012 the Hands On group of practices celebrates 30 years of an established reputation in providing excellence in chiropractic services across the Sydney region. This successful group is ready to offer an exciting opportunity for motivated 2011 graduates and or established practitioners looking to join a strong visionary team.

We are looking for energetic self-starters who put their patient's health goals above their ego, want to work in a supportive practice environment as an integrative health provider of chiropractic care with other specialists. If you are keen to develop your diagnostic skills and enthused at the thought of learning how to be the spokesperson for health within your community, contact us immediately.

Our doctors work as a team communicating regularly to discuss patient care and progress, leveraging their collective diagnostic skills and abilities. You will be coached, mentored and challenged through this unique approach to healthcare but the results you achieve for your patients will inspire you and provide the impetus for growth through referrals. Combined with your current skills base you will grow significantly as both a practitioner and healthcare provider.

If you are passionate about making a difference in people's lives and being heard in the developments of healthcare in Australia then email us. If you are happy to leave your ego outside the door and join a productive multi-disciplinary team, then email us. If you have a thirst for knowledge and are motivated to use the many resources provided for you as a Hands On practitioner, then email us. If you are looking for a long term successful career with the opportunity to take a practice/sharing associate/share purchase options then email us today.

All expressions of interest are treated in confidence. Please email your application to Jacqui Gibbs, Business Development Manager at jag@handsonsydney.com.au
