

Family CHIROPRACTIC business for sale in beautiful Sligo, northwest Ireland

Background

The office has a straight chiropractic philosophy and awareness. All clients are educated on an individual needs basis and care is given in that way too. There is good communication with the clients and a real friendly family atmosphere in the office where all are friends.

Bio Geomtric Integration is the main chiropractic approach used with another eight or so approaches incorporated. The clients would be used to more of a light force approach, but are very open to new approaches that would be of help. They love new information, new chiropractic techniques, exercises or any new approach that is specific for them.

The office runs on a very simple basis. There are no computerised systems apart from balancing the books. All bookings are made manually. I use an Activator but no other machines. I also use The Orthotic Group gaitscan and orthotics on an individual basis.

This is what is for sale: The office space with its fit out and most of the furniture, all the client files, an established self-supporting office, and my support for up to two months. This is a blank slate for the new DC's to build your dream practice, while already having an established client base who understand chiropractic.
